To Whom It May Concern:

We are delighted to announce that the entity formerly known as JGR Optics Inc. has changed to santec Canada Corporation, and Optotest Corporation has changed to santec California Corporation.

JGR Optics Inc. → santec Canada Corporation
Optotest Corporation → santec California Corporation

The legal entity will not change – the only changes are to the company name and logo. The company register code, address, bank account numbers, and VAT payer code remain the same.

The name change allows us to truly present ourselves as the most innovative photonics pioneers. Our commitment to our customers and partners remains our highest priority. By rebranding as santec Canada & santec California and integrating with santec headquarters, we have become a complete cable assembly & fiber optics component test and measurement solution company. This integration enables us to provide the market with the best available products & solutions.
